Guide to the Altar of the Nation
The Altar of the Nation
National Memorial for all American War Dead

Dedicated to the Glory of God in grateful memory of all American War Dead. Stones as tributes from Presidents Truman, Eisenhower, Kennedy, Johnson, Nixon, Ford, Carter, Reagan, Bush and Clinton and from each of the 50 States and four Territories and from the Commanding Officers of America’s Armed Forces are incorporated into this Altar to symbolize the unity and strength of a grateful people.

The Presidents of the United States and each of the Governors of the 50 States and four Territories have had their tributes to the American War Dead placed at the Altar of the Nation on Memorial Day.

Remembered here are the Americans killed on the battlefields, on many seas, in the air; the lives of women and men sacrificed in war service as members of the great Service organizations; the sacrifices of the lives of war correspondents and the entertainers; those Americans who sacrificed their lives in war service in the laboratories, the shops and factories in producing the sinews of war. Also gratefully recalled are the sacrifices of the lives of the men and women pioneers in creating our heritage. One life is as precious as another.

The Legislature of New Hampshire petitioned the Congress of the United States to grant recognition of the Altar of the Nation as a national memorial for all American War Dead. In 1957 both the U.S. Senate and the House of Representatives voted unanimously to grant this request.

National and State governments have no jurisdiction here (per se) and neither does any church nor member of the clergy except at the time of holding their service.
Key to this Guide

In this document the stones on the altar are divided into 5 sections, labeled A through E as shown on the picture on the top of the preceding page to facilitate in finding their location. Each Stone in the following list will have a letter and a number preceding it. To find a stone, look in the lettered section and the number will show over a stone.

The “Old Rugged Cross” on top of the Altar is made of NH Granite, taken from the quarry and cut by Phillop Yon of Fitzwilliam, NH. Donated by Douglas IV and John Sloane III, brothers of Sanderson Sloane, as a memorial to him.

The three slabs of Verde Antique Marble forming the top of the Altar came from the quarries at Cardiff, Maryland, through the center of which runs the Mason-Dixon Line. The slabs therefore represent the North, South and the Union. Mixed with the cement binding the marble of the Altar is Holy Soil from Mt. Zion, Jerusalem, donated by Eric Marmorek.

Altar the Nation

The national memorial for all the American War Dead.

The Altar of the Nation was the first appointment to be built on Cathedral of the Pines Knoll. The stones for the foundation came from a big stone dump at the foot of the knoll. The stones to build the choir mound, pulpit, chancel, Hilltop House, all came from this stone dump. These stones were used because they were available, easy to get, plentiful and durable.

From 1760, when the first of the Old Timers came onto this land, until 1937 when the Sloanes bought this farm, the main parking field, then known as the "five-acre-piece mowing", was plowed. Each year, before seed could be planted, a crop of rocks had to be removed. These the Old Timers placed on the stone dump. Thus, here are the rock the builders rejected which have become the head of the corner. Visitors to the Cathedral are reminded that the Old Timers could not have realized they were instruments in God's plan to create Cathedral of the Pines.

While the stones were being assembled to build the Altar, Douglas Sloane, founder of the Cathedral of the Pines, could not help but recall the message which these stones now have for hundreds of thousands of visitors to the Cathedral of the heroic efforts of the Old Timers in their search for better living, freedom, the privilege of worshipping God in the way and manner of their choice.

At the time preparations were being made to build the Altar Dr. Sloane was active in the New Hampshire Society, Sons of the American Revolution. Harry E. Sherwin was secretary of the state organization. Dr. Sloane suggested to Mr. Sherwin that he invite all of the state societies of the Sons of the American Revolution to contribute stones to be incorporated into the Altar of the Nation together with these local rocks. This was done. Most of the State Stones were contributed by the state societies S. A. R. Here the tributes from every state and every territory are bound together to express the strength and unity of a grateful people in this memorial for all American War Dead. When all the stones were assembled the Misses Susan and Genevieve Doran of Rindge, helped arrange them in order and began the demonstration of the power of the love of God and neighbor in operation which the Cathedral indicates.
Of interest, the money to build the Altar of the Nation came from Sandy. When Sandy, for whom the Cathedral of the Pines is a memorial, began playing football for Newton High School, his father was persuaded to take out a life and accident insurance policy on the boy. When Sandy reached his majority Dr. Sloane said to him, "Here, Sandy, is the policy with premiums paid to date. Keep it or cash it as you choose."

Sandy replied, "Thanks, Dad, but you have been paying the premiums so far and if you’ll continue paying them I’ll appreciate this gift all the more later on." It was the money from this policy, Sandy’s own money, which paid for the construction of the Altar of the Nation.

The Altar of the Nation was the first appointment to be built in the Cathedral of the Pines after word was received that Sandy would not be home in body. The Sloanes had planned building an out-of-door chapel over the ridge to the north of the farm house. Rocks were collected for this purpose in the spring of 1938. long before Sandy left for war duty. He knew about this plan. As a pilot of a B-17 bomber based in England, he wrote asking that nothing be touched until his return for he wanted his share in the doing. Sandy HAS his share but not according to any human plan. If it had been man’s plan, there would be no Cathedral, no Altar of the Nation.

Begun in a very simple way, the Altar of the Nation has become the most significant war memorial in the world. The Congress of the United States voted unanimously to recognize this Altar as a memorial for all American War Dead. In London, England, the British Empire has the Centotaph honoring all their War Dead but only this Altar of all national memorials recalls the debt we owe the Creator of all the lives sacrificed that we might be here. Only through the Altar of the Nation are all American War Dead, those of the combat forces and those in different uniforms but not of the armed services, given recognition.

Nine times the President of the United States, seven times every Governor of our states and territories, all of the great national patriotic, civic, service, fraternal and labor organizations have had their tributes placed at the Altar of the Nation.

Before this Altar in Cathedral of the Pines have served those of 44 different faiths, each in its own way, acknowledging the One God. The Altar of the Nation is used in turn by different faiths as would be an altar on the battlefield or battleship in time of war.

For the Jewish Services a shield is placed in front of the Cross and placed on the center of the Altar is the Holy Ark of the Covenant. The Menorahs (branched candle sticks) are placed at the ends of the Altar and the Reading Table in the center of the congregation as it would be in the temple or synagogue. At such times the Cathedral is the Temple.

For the Roman Catholic Services the crucifix, monstrance, letters, candles were placed on the Altar.

For the Eastern Orthodox Services the portraits, (icons) the candles and their appointments are placed on the Altar.

In the riser of the top step of the Altar of the Nation are the bronze plaques which we were asked to accept by the many national patriotic organizations represented. Not one of those tributes was solicited. At the far right of the Altar, facing it, are two plaques resting comfortably side by side; the C. S. A. plaque given by the Salem, Virginia Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy and officially dedicated here by the President-General of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and beside this bronze memento is the G. A. R. plaque. Honored equally here are the Boys in Gray of the south and the Boys in Blue of the north.

In the riser at the left of the Altar, facing it, is the Y. D. stone from Belleau Woods and the Canadian Legion stone from Vimy Ridge. These stones, side by side, recall the neighboring countries living and working together in peace, also the sacrifices of lives of those of many countries that we have our Freedoms,

Three Presidents, Truman, Eisenhower and Kennedy, have their stones as tributes in the Altar of the Nation. So too, have: Fleet Admirals Leahy, Nimitz, Halsey; Generals of the Army Marshall, MacArthur and Bradley; Generals I. D. White, Ridgway, Doolittle, Mark Clark and Admiral Robert S. Carney. In this Altar are stones as memorials for Admirals Marc A. Mitscher, Richard E. Byrd and Forrest Sherman and General George Patton.

In the lower center of the Altar of the Nation are three stones, representing three major faiths and given by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Chaplains. Chaplin the Reverend Edwin T. Cooke, Methodist, gave the stone from Okinawa; the Reverend Fr. Thomas A. Shanahan, S. J., the stone (which has been blessed) taken from the site of the first celebration of the Mass in all the Far East, that Mass celebrated by the chaplain in the expedition of Ferdinand Magellan, the first man to sail around the world. The stone from the Negev was presented by Rabbi Roland B. Gittelsohn, the Marine Corps Chaplain who buried the American boys on Iwo Jima.

The three large slabs of "Verde Antique" marble, each weighing more than half a ton, forming the top of the Altar of the Nation, came from the quarry in Cardiff, Maryland through which runs the Mason-Dixon Line. The three slabs, therefore, symbolize the North, South, Union; Protestants, Catholics and Jews; the Trinity. Mixed with the cement binding these stones to the Altar is Holy Soil from Mt. Zion in Jerusalem, given by Jewish friends.

The cannon ball on the top step of the Altar at left, facing Altar, was sent by the Louisiana State Society S. A. R. for there are no stones in Louisiana. By permission of the U. S. Government this cannon ball was taken from the Chalmette National Park, site of the last battle of the War of 1812.

The cannon ball at the right, facing the Altar, was brought back to this farm by Moses Hale from the Battle of Bennington, Vt. The cannon balls represent the tributes of the North and of the South; the instruments of death where they belong, at the foot of the Altar.

The history of America is recounted in the rocks of historic and geologic interest in the Altar of the Nation. The Cross is the New Hampshire stone of Fitzwilliam granite, New Hampshire being the Granite State. The Cross is the gift of Sandy's brothers, Douglas IV and John II.

The Cross, the Christian symbol, recalls the one who emphasized the Laws of Moses and gave as His greatest Command, "Thou shall love the Lord Thy God" and "Thou shall love thy Neighbor."
